True outdoor show returns to the Peoria area New Elmwood AllOutdoors Show is March 6-7 in Elmwood, IL

Hunters and anglers will be happy to learn that a true outdoors show is returning to the Peoria-Canton-Galesburg area on March 6-7. Unlike too many shows that mix their message, the sole focus of the Elmwood AllOutdoors Show is fishing, hunting and the great outdoors. This new event will be held in the Elmwood High School and Grade School gymnasiums on Saturday, March 6 (9 a.m. to 5p.m.) and Sunday, March 7 (9 a.m. to 4 p.m.). Admission is $5 for adults and free for youngsters 13and under. Parking is free. Food and drink will be sold throughout the show.

Nearly 100 booths are expected and will feature a wide variety of outdoors-related products and services. Visit www.elmwoodalloutdoors.com to see an updated list of vendors. A limited number of booths are available for $50 apiece. But space is going fast so contact us soon.

In addition to those fine vendors, other highlights of the show include:

► A Big Buck Contest in which hunters can have trophy bucks measured by certified Boone and Crockett Club and Pope and Young Club measurers. Deer will be displayed during the show and five top entries will win prizes. Learn more at www.elmwoodalloutdoors.com

► A trout pond for youngsters courtesy of Herman Brothers Pond Management and the Elmwood Community Foundation. For $3 kids get 5 minutes of fun fishing. If you catch a trout we will clean and vacuum pack the fish so you can take it home for dinner. Prizes will also be awarded for some other fish.

► Seminars from anglers and hunters, including Frank Hyla of Time on the Water TV show, bass fishing expert Terry Brown of Wired2fish.com, crappie guide Todd Gessner, DNR fisheries biologists, panel of Ron Boyer & Rob Bilgliazzi discussing bass fishing strip-mine lakes, catfish guide Matt Jones, talking turkey by Jerry Nicholson, food-plot expert Phil DeJarnatt, crappie guide Steve Welch and bowhunter Marc Anthony.

► Door prizes, raffles and much more.

Show sponsors are Farmers State Bank, Country Financial, Elmwood Insurance Agency, Inc., Brimfield Area Men's Club, Hoss's Hawg Bait, Herman Brothers Pond Management, Elmwood Community Foundation, Farm Care Realty, Peoria Disposal Co., Camille's of Canton, PrairieStateOutdoors.com and Larry's Fishing Hole

All proceeds benefit the athletic programs and the students of Elmwood High School.

So plan to join us March 6-7 in Elmwood.
